Bruce Bennett

Bruce is married to Robyn with 4 adult children and 10 grand children. Bruce left farming in the Nyngan district to go into ministry - 3 years in Tamworth, 6 years in Warialda, and 16 years as senior minister of Orange Evangelical Church. In 2021 he began work with Reach Australia, FIEC and Vocational Bible College, and is currently the National Director of FIEC. He's a keen shooter and fisherman and an even keener father and grandfather. However, he spends most of his time coaching pastors and working to see churches planted and more people won for Christ.

Paul Roe

Paul is an historian from the Outback with 50 years' experience in engaging audiences with Australia's powerful stories of faith. His passion is to share the stories of Jesus' disciples who are largely unknown but contributed so much to the life of Australia. He believes it is urgent to return their stories creatively to the national conversation about the future. He's committed to equipping an army of storytellers who will inspire many by making this invisible faith-narrative, visible again.
